

Information for Families

TAME is a nonprofit organization that has inspired and equipped Texas students to become future engineers.

TAME clubs and competitions are FREE for students and families!

TAME offers extracurricular clubs for engineering education, engineering competitions, and college scholarships.

TAME clubs: Students in TAME Clubs receive guided, hands-on extracurricular engineering education, career exploration, and a T-shirt! Seniors who are members of TAME Clubs can apply for a TAME Scholarship.

TAME engineering competitions: Each spring, TAME hosts regional and statewide engineering competitions across Texas where TAME Clubs and their student members compete in an exciting engineering design challenge. Competitions last a full day and bring together TAME Clubs from across the region and engineers that live and work in those communities.

Other important points:

- TAME clubs are lead by a local community leader or educator.
- TAME does not charge students or families to participate in TAME activities.
- Students must be part of a qualified TAME club to receive materials and an invitation to the competitions and scholarship application.

Questions? Contact your local TAME club leader or email programs@tame.org

TAME is a statewide network of local schools and educators, higher education, industry, libraries, volunteers, and families working together to support local opportunities for engineering education and career exploration.
